If we can say trustfully of those who have lift, us—"Gone!—gone to the better land," and hope and believe that we shall meet them where there are no mon partings and the language of sorrow. I unknown, we shall not refuse to be comforted "because they are not."

"The President's policy" in appoin ting Gen. Kilpatrick as our Minister to Chili is not at all satisfactory to the Democratic papers, which have be watching the New Jersey campaign.

We do not wish to speak desparaging! of New Jersey after her recent splendid patriotic action. But what would men have said five years ago, if assured that South Carolina would before New Jersey ratify an amendment to the constitution abolishing slavery and prohibiting it forever in all our national domain? Thenth his hands ting it forever in all our nationa domain? Truth is indeed more wonder ful than fiction. The sober facts of his dreams of the imagination.

Lord Palmerston has been well called the Warwick of English Episcopacy. The two highest ecclesiastical dignitaries in the land, the Archbishops of Canterbury and York, owe their positions to him. Eleven of the twenty-eight sees are occupied by bishops nominated by him. Six or seven of the twenty-five deaneries in the gift of the crown were filled by him.

It is reported that a large number of emigrants are now going from Southern Italy to Egypt. They are said to be of an intelligent, energetic class, and they are attracted by the liberal policy of the Viceroy and the abundant reward, which the fertile soil of Egypt promises to the skillful husbandman. A correspondent of the Boston Daily Advertiser writes from New Orleans, that the Northern and Southern residents of that city are rapidly resuming amicable relations with each other.
